

LORENDEN

Newsletter

Friday 1st May 2020

Welcome back Mr Waitt

We were very pleased to welcome Mr Waitt back to school yesterday and I know pupils were keen to see him again. Many thanks to Mrs Jordan for covering many of Mr Waitt's lessons, while I have done some of the others; I was particularly delighted when one Year 3 pupil announced he would like to award me a house point for teaching their PE lesson - it meant a lot! I then joined one of Mr Waitt's lessons yesterday morning and watched a Year 1 pupil carefully spacing out socks on the kitchen floor to hop between - and really enjoying herself! I think the whole environment of online learning is becoming more normal to us all over time and we thank parents and pupils for their engagement with it - but we can't wait until we are back at school and able to teach everyone face to face.

I hope that parents received my email yesterday with a link to a short survey as well as an email about the proposed 'virtual coffee meeting' next week. We continue to look at events coming up in the calendar and how we might need to change them to fit our current online environment, or a safe environment if we are onsite at some point this term.

Thank you for the lovely pictures received this week - I hope pupils were able to see these in assembly this morning and that you can enjoy them below too.

Butterfly week in Nursery

Reception

This week our Reception children heard the story of The Bad Tempered Ladybird and painted some pebbles during their art activity.

Year 1

How many ways can we make 50p?

Year 2

Year 2 art this week was to make a model from empty toilet and kitchen rolls. See Lilly-May's sausage dog, Florence's castle and Zach's creations!

Click here to see what Joseph and his mother have been up to this week.

Harris helped his parents pull up their old slabs. Harris wanted to do it and worked out how to do it all by himself!

Year 3

Violet gate-crashing
Henry's Singing
lesson!

Year 4

George, Daniel and River all enjoyed their lessons on The Titanic.

Titanic sank by huge iceberg by George Reader

On the 15th April 1912 RMS Titanic sank the largest ship afloat in the world, its record service was the second of three Olympic class ocean liners operated by the White Star Line. She was built by the Harland and Wolff shipyard in Belfast.

The Titanic — billed as an unsinkable ship — hit an iceberg and soon sank. There was a fire and it was going with the luggage when there was an explosion. But we do know that many people died and a great amount of money.

The RMS Titanic was the world's largest passenger ship when it was built, measuring 269 metres (898 feet) long, and the largest unsunked ocean liner in history. There were three classes of cabins, but also had a crew of 900.

Titanic sank on 15th, which means she sank on Sunday. She was on her way to get off its sailing ship the land played the national anthem. When she had sailed a wayward path but it could not be the strategy of the Titanic and the boat is a tragedy how many children, women and men from the freezing icy waves of the North Atlantic. The graveyard in Newfoundland are victims of how for bodies were recovered. And many bodies were not found and some people were missing. The first class people had

The first class people and people anyone could drink of, they had 19 courses, fish, lamb, pork, steak, and many more things after that they could play sports, swim or talk about politics. And they had to do and make a lot of things to eat. They games such as shuffleboard and cards (bingo) and board games, including chess and backgammon, were available to second class passengers. There was one room for the use of all formal activities for third class passengers. However, Titanic's First Deck was a popular place to meet, relax and play delegates. It had a billiard table and a very large piano for playing for music.

This is a super newspaper article, George, well done!

All your work is great, this is all and you can make it into your next River work!

THE DAILY TITANIC SINKS!

Daniel

Early in the morning on the 15th of April the great liner Titanic sank on its way to New York. On its way it struck a colossal iceberg. Most passengers were left in the icy cold water to die but the first class could go to the lifeboats.

There were lots of famous people aboard the ship. There were forty people who had Master Archibald Butt and George Widener. Many of the first class passengers and their pets managed to abandon ship on the life boats and were picked up by Carpathia.

The Captain of the ship which was supposed to be available was forward John Smith. It weighed 52,320 tons but it only had 20 lifeboats. The luxury liner had 40,000 cases of beer and 36,000 oranges. When it started its voyage from Southampton, Sully it struck an iceberg and in only 2 hours and 40 minutes it had vanished to the sandy floor of the sea.

The story continues as survivors return to their families on land. Hopefully ship Sully will be made more safe after this deadly disaster.

Year 5

Dylan 'The Chess Master'

Year 6

For art this week, Year 6 were asked to make a super hero using materials found around the house. Leo made biscuits, Skye made a cake in the shape of Captain America's shield and Kira made a mille feuille of Colonel Tom's medal.

Extra-curricular clubs

A special mention for all those who came to recorder club who were enthusiastic and keen even though it was the end of the day.

Isabelle (Year 2) made home made burger and chips in this week's Cookery Club!

WEEKLY CHALLENGES

Well done to Thomas and Sophie (Year 5) who were joint winners of the challenge to draw part of the school this week - do look at their lovely pictures too.

My favourite place is the front door, because when you open it the magic begins.
By Sophie Year 5

by Thomas Year 5

Next week's challenge has been sent to pupils via their email and is a photo challenge, which lots of them really enjoy.

Next week, don't forget it is Bank Holiday to celebrate VE Day on Friday 8 May (next Friday), so we will finish for the week at the end of Thursday and have a short newsletter to you.

Best wishes for a lovely weekend

Mrs Uttley

